

About two years ago my Pomeranian was diagnosed with an enlarged heart and heart murmur. She takes medication for this and visits her heart specialist every six months. This, along with her diet, is keeping her heart healthy. In addition to her dry food, Bella gets freeze-dried raw food. I also give her raw bones and freeze-dried chicken hearts weekly. Bella is twelve now and her heart condition has not worsened. She is the happiest dog, loves everyone, car rides and cookies. She loves to come into our store to get treats and visit the employees and customers.
